

Do you have ambitions within the technical / commercial area in an exciting global company?

Global Business Engineer

We are looking for an employee with the latest knowledge from his / her studies, who wants to work with commercial technical sales within e.g. the following areas:

- Technical sales – project coordination
- Outbound technical sales in export markets
- Technical communication/marketing

You will get the opportunity to create your own job and through a coordinated program you will try different disciplines and together we will find the right definition of the job for both you and the company.

We offer an exciting everyday life with a great global touch, where you will have your own personal impact on the direction in which you want to go.

For the right candidate there will be opportunity for professional as well as personal and career development in the job.

With own production plants and subsidiaries in Denmark, Sweden, USA, Poland and Taiwan, there are exciting opportunities for an international career.

Your professional and personal profile:

- You probably just graduated as a Global Business Engineer.
- You have the desire and the ability to work within the commercial/ technical area.
- You are aspirational, ambitious and always 100% committed.

RED HORSE provides professional fastening solutions for construction and industry globally.

We work project-oriented with exciting and demanding customer projects, where we develop unique products and solutions for the customers.

Our goal is to be the preferred and most innovative partner in fastening solutions, and we believe that dynamics and great commitment combined with strong professionalism is the way to great results and satisfied customers.

We work efficiently and seek results in a different way, where dynamics, high speed, and “fighting spirit” are part of the informal everyday life.
