

Do you want to be a part of an interesting international company?

Machinist intern - process technology, operation and optimization

We have several years of experience with interns, and we are now looking for new machinist interns with interest in machine technology and with focus on production, operation, and optimization.

As an intern you will be a part of the existing team and you will take part of the assignments equal to the other machinists.

The internship consists of project management, documentation and optimization of machines and systems as well as operation and maintenance of machines in the production with "hands-on" mechanical engineering in practice.

You will become a part of the production technical team and will primarily be associated with the product management part of the product technical team.

The period of the internship will be coordinated in collaboration with you and your supervisor so that we achieve the best possible match between your educational needs and the company's current needs.

We expect you to have interest, drive and that you are professionally strong in the abovementioned areas.

Please send the application with your CV and transcript to job@redhorse.dk

RED HORSE provides professional fastening solutions for construction and industry globally. We work project-oriented with exciting and demanding customer projects, where we develop unique products and solutions for the customers.

Our goal is to be the preferred and most innovative partner in fastening solutions, and we believe that dynamics and great commitment combined with strong professionalism is the way to great results and satisfied customers.

We offer an interesting and challenging position in an innovative and visionary technical growth company with location in Denmark and several international subsidiary companies.

We work efficiently and go for results in a different and unconventional way where dynamics, high speed and fighting spirit is a part of the informal everyday life.

For the right candidate there will be opportunity for professional as well as personal development in the job.

For further information, please check www.redhorse.dk.

Send your application to:

RED HORSE
Niels Bohrs Vej 25, Stilling
DK-8660 Skanderborg
E-mail: job@redhorse.dk

For further information, please contact:

Rasmus Lauge Thomassen
Phone: +45 86 95 00 99

Application deadline:

No later than 8th of December 2023.
We are reviewing applications on an ongoing basis.
We expect you to start in January 2024.